2006 Bâtard-Montrachet (Jean-Marc Boillot)	$ 225.00	$ 135.00
“Bright aromas of acacia flower, minerals and white truffle. Superripe peach, apricot and nut flavors are framed by superb acidity, giving this dry wine a penetrating quality and terrific definition. The flavors build in intensity toward the back, gaining in sappiness and verve on the firm, very long finish. (93+/100)” - Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar

“Medium bright yellow. Reserved apple and pear aromas brightened by a chalky component. Suave on entry, then impressively intense in the mid-palate, with lovely restrained sweetness and outstanding cut and energy. The peach and pear flavors are framed and lifted by firm acidity and strong stony minerality. Very impressive. (93+/100)” - Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar

2006 Corton-Charlemagne “Quintessence” (Girardin)	$ 240.00	$ 144.00
“Bright yellow. Ripe pear, yellow peach, minerals and crushed stone on the nose. Very ripe, mouthfilling and voluminous, with bright pineapple fruit and a pronounced wet stone character. finishes classically dry, with excellent length and good precision. Still, this is a bit youthfully blocky today and in need of time in bottle to harmonize. (93+/100)” - Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar

“Pale, bright yellow. Aromas of peach, mirabelle and spices, with a whiff of pineapple and a violet high note. Juicy, spicy and serious, with intense peach, pear and spice flavors and a very subtle, lingering finish. A midweight Meursault with excellent energy for the vintage. (92/100)”

2006 Meursault “Les Perrières” (Drouhin)	$ 110.00	$ 66.00
“A discreetly oaked nose sets off the green apple, wet stone and white flower aromas as well as the lemon peel suffused flavors that are impressively delineated, even chiseled on the vibrant and tension filled finish that seems to go on and on. This is really pretty and already completely harmonious. 2013+ (92/100)”

“A wonderfully pure and refined nose of pear, white flower and spiced green apple aromas that are followed by rich, full and intense flavors that possess both excellent volume and real depth on the beautiful and lingering mineral-infused finish that is also very dry in the best sense of the term. I particularly like the impeccably fine balance here and this just screams Puligny. Highly recommended. 2013+ (91-94/100)”
